JOHN SHERIDAN.

DIED. At DeLamar, Nevada, on Friday last, Dr. John S. Hoyt passed quietly away.
He was 59 years of age and had suffered for some time from Bright's disease and consumption. He leaves a loving wife and four children to mourn his loss. On Saturday at 2 o'clock p. m. the remains were followed to the grave by a large number.

John Roeder returned last Thursday evening from his ranch in Pahransagat Valley and brought with him some fine beef. He left it in the wagon over night and next morning a hind quarter was gone. No clew to the thief has been found. Mr. Roeder left for DeLamar and Pahransagat Wednesday loaded principally with doors and fixtures for his new building at DeLamar.

Some time during the session of the Legislature a bill will be introduced to provide means by which those who desire to take the Keeley treatment and are pecuniarily unable to do so, may be enabled to take the course at the expense of the State.
—Carson News.

Three hundred and eight parties have entered lands in Lincoln county in the last six months embracing some forty thousand acres of land, and all are on the line of the proposed Nevada Southern Railway. This together with what has been entered heretofore on the same line represents over seventy thousand acres of land which have been taken up along the line of that proposed road. When this land is under cultivation —and which will be as soon as we receive a just recognition of our rights on the silver question—Lincoln county as an agricultural one, will lead in the State.

The Surveyor General's report submitted to the Legislature contains a good showing for Lincoln county. The land entries in this county during the past two years far exceeded the entries made in any other county. Most of this land is along the proposed line of the Nevada Southern, south of the Muddy Valley. The only Assessor's report embraced in the pamphlet is that of H. E. Freudenenthal, Assessor of Lincoln county. Five others were submitted, all being so incomplete that they were not accepted. This report will do more to advertise the advantages of Lincoln, than any other method which could be adopted.

A petition from the citizens of St. Joe was laid over until the next meeting.

Freeman & Bates of San Francisco, in regard to county bonds.

amount in the Redemption Fund, it was to law.

appears in another column was allowed.

A New Superintendent Appointed For The DeLamar Property.

The Virginia Chronicle of recent date says: Ralph Nichols, who has been superintendent of the Sutor Tunnel for some time has sent in his resignation, to take effect on the first of March. Mr. Nichols has been appointed superintendent of the famous De-Lamar mines and mill at DeLamar, Lincoln county Nevada. The DeLamar, Monkey Wrench or Ferguson district has become celebrated for its rich gold mines during the past two years. It is a young gold field, being not over two or three years old, but it is one of the most promising regions in the State. The town of DeLamar is located among the mines and is a flourishing camp.
It is probably a hundred miles from Pioche and is reached after a long stage journey.
There are something like 800 men in the district of DeLamar at present. The April Pool and Jim Crow are two of the leading mines in the district. One group of mines changed hands several months ago for over $400,000. When the new railroad from Salt Lake City to Los Angeles is completed, the DeLamar and other rich mining districts in eastern Nevada, will be opened up to the outside world.

Mr. Nichols was superintendent of the Pioche Con. Co.'s property here about two years ago and proved to be a gentleman of much ability and was liked exceedingly well by everyone. A better man could not have been chosen for the responsible position Mr.
Nichols is about to take and we wish him the best of luck in his position.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, January 31, 1895.

If the money changers who have forced the third issue of bonds, which will probably be officially announced after Congress has been given time to digest the executive message, by withdrawing the gold which they paid for the last issue of bonds from the Treasury, thought thereby to frighten Congress into financial legislation they have apparently made a big mistake. Congress doesn't show the least bit of fright, and there is no more probability of financial legislation now than there was before the gold raid began. In fact, the new issue of bonds will no more frighten Congress as a whole than does the talk about the Treasury being forced upon a silver basis does the silver men. Congress doesn't legislate on financial matters for precisely the same reason that some married couples do not live together—they cannot agree upon anything. And the impression is growing that if an extra session of the next Congress is called, the same reason will prevent financial legislation.

The administration men stole a march upon the anti's in the Senate, by getting Senator Vest's amendment to the pending Hawaiian resolution adopted by a vote of 24 to 22. This amendment expresses sympathy with all efforts to establish Republican institutions; reaffirms the policy of absolute non-interference with the affairs of other nations, and declares the Cleveland administration entitled to commendation and support for having maintained that policy towards Hawaii. Twenty-three Democrats and one Republican voted for the amendment, and eighteen Republicans and four Populists against it. There was some very spirited debate in connection with the amendment, Senator Teller declaring that if allowed to stand it would put an "absolute falsehood" in the records of the Senate.
The matter is not ended. It will come up again this week and is likely to be accompanied with more lively talk.

The bills for the admission of Arizona and New Mexico have very little show to get passed by the Senate at this session. Although there has been little public opposition to either, it is an open secret there is a large number of Senators who do not wish to see those bills become laws, and it is also known that, although he has promised to sign them if they were sent to him, President Cleveland would much prefer that they be left unacted upon. The Oklahoma bill is in the same boat.

Now that the House has made a beginning in that direction by adding two financial amendments—one to give the Secretary of the Treasury discretion as to what denomination of notes shall be issued in place of those redeemed and cancelled, and one making gold certificates non-receivable for custom dues after July 1, 1895, and forbidding their use by national banks in their reserves, and stopping their future issue—to a regular appropriation bill, it is expected that a number of such amendments will be proposed in the Senate, including several for the issue of bonds and for the free coinage of silver.

The amendment to the Nicaragua Canal bill, providing that "no more than one dollar in stock of the company shall be issued for every dollar, in truth and in fact expended by the company," which was offered by Senator Wolcott and adopted by the Senate previous to the passage of the bill, has deprived the lobby of much of the satisfaction of getting the bill through the Senate. Its chance for getting through the House is very small, so small in fact that few people even profess to be able to see it.

A Fine Building to be Erected Where The Cliff House Stood.

Adolph Satro has decided that within the next four months a handsome building will replace the old Cliff House which was destroyed by fire on Christmas night. The new Cliff House will be a more handsome structure than the old, and will cost $50,- 000 or more to complete it.

The new structure will cover an area of 92x100 feet and will be five stories in height, the upper floors to be surrounded by broad verandas. There will also be high observation towers, so that good views of the ocean can be obtained. The interior decorations will be elegant, no stone being left unturned to make the place a pleasure resort of the highest character. The new building will hang further out over the cliffs than the old did, and to do this safely the foundation will be supported by heavy timbers imbedded in the rocks.—Ex.

Deep Snow in the Mountains.

The following is given as the depth of snow at the various points on the mountains: Truckee, ten feet; Summit, twenty-one; Caso, 15; Emigrant Gap, 14; Blue Canyon, 2; Towle, 7; Dutch Flat, 6; Gold Run, 5; Cape Horn, 5; Colfax ten inches.

Carson Appeal.—The money in the Treasurer's vault was counted and the money and the Treasurer's figures tallied to a cent. There was $280,000.40 in the vault and $1,466,057.86 in bonds.
The State is on a pretty good financial basis.

The New York Sun can be very sarcastic when it likes. It states that a New York lady, an art student, has been visiting Cleveland, O., lately, and has become enchanted with a South Side gallery, and writes back of it as follows:

"When I go back to New York I shall only have to close my eyes to recall with all the fresh, keen pleasure my first impressions of the beautiful piece of Grecian architecture reared in your midst by Mr. C. F. Olney; a most delightful surprise in an American city.
It greets you with its yellow walls and white columns like a flash out of old Athens."

Upon which the merciless Sun comments in this style:
We want to ask the smart Alexanders of New York if there is one among them who can boast that he has a "beautiful piece of Grecian architecture reared in his midst!" If there is, let us have his name and likewise an account of the structure. At this writing, however, we are quite sure that Cleveland possesses the only person now living with a beautiful piece of Grecian architecture in his midst.
